Kisses from the Big Bad Wolf

Who's Got the Better of the Big Bad Wolf?

The Big Bad Wolf is back for Volume 3 — and he's as funny as ever...

The Big Bad Wolf has been sneezing all morning: AT-CHOO! ATCHOO! ATCHOO!

There's nothing else for it — he's got to see the doctor.

The Big Bad Wolf shudders: URRRRRRR!

He's afraid of doctors.

For a scary-cat like the Big Bad Wolf, swallowing a big spoonful of medicine is an adventure in itself. But the doctor he's come to see isn't all that accommoda-ting — it's either that, or an injection. A what? WAAH! WAAH! WAAH!

A finger-puppet book that brings the Big Bad Wolf's story to life... And proves that he's not so bad after all!

NON-VIOLENT
COMMUNICATION!

from 4 years
old

Stop Fighting!

By Virginie Aladjidi & Caroline Pelissier

January 2020
25 x 21 cm
32 pages – Hard back
€ 10.90

One of the first children's books to address non-violent communication, with a fun story and an informative section written by a non-violent communication certified specialist.

It's very hot today and the coyote, the zebra and the monkey are quarrelling over who gets to shelter under the only acacia tree of the savanna. The giraffe intervenes and tries to ease tensions.

WHAT IS NVC?

Non violent communication, or NVC, is a method created by Marshall Rosenberg in the 60's, in the USA. It allows easier communication, cooperation and conflict resolution.

In order to be successful NVC focuses mainly on listening to body needs and the use of language to express oneself. It favours what the heart dictates as opposed to a type of language that contributes directly to conflict situations.

November 2019
21 x 18 cm
32 pages + bookmark
€ 10.50

- A traditional fairytale in clear image form enabling the child to make their own story.
- A book which stimulates the imagination and encourages language development and oral expression.
- A snazzy bookmark to enable the use of pictogrammes throughout the story.
- You can follow a summary of the text using the bookmark thanks to the corresponding numbers to the pages of the story
- A fun and educational concept used in schools.

In the series so far:

- Vol. 1 - Tell it your own way... The Three Little Pigs
- Vol. 2 - Tell it your own way... Little Red Riding Hood
- Vol. 3 - Tell it your own way... Puss in Boots
- Vol. 4 - Tell it your own way... Goldilocks and the Three Bears

In this wordless version where the characters, places, and objects are pictogrammes, the reader can completely reinvent its own version of this famous tale. The meaning of each pictogramme is clearly laid out on the bookmark. Follow the summary on the bookmark with the numbers corresponding to the pages, to help you tell the tale, or invent a new story in your own words, it's completely up to you! You can add noises, descriptions of the surroundings, what the characters look like, what they think, what they do...

There is no limit to the imagination and telling this story in your own way, so that all characters are brought to life in a new imaginative way.

So Many Emotions!

Vol. 8 - A Little Bit of Self-Belief for Luna

By Kochka & Raphaëlle Michaud

available
20 x 23,5 cm
32 pages
€ 8.00

Karam's story focuses on the loving bonds that unite family across borders.

Karam lives alone with his mum, Ouma. One day, Ouma explains to him that she has to go away for a short time to see her own mum in Algeria, who isn't very well. And Ouma won't be able to take Karam with her. Although Karam is worried about not being able to be with the person he loves most in the world, his mum kisses him three times.

Those three loving kisses mean that even though she's an ocean away, Ouma will be right there with Karam, safe and warm inside his heart.

Luna's story focuses on the self-confidence that can come from playing sport.

Luna finds it hard to make decisions. Her friend Estelle, who likes to be in charge, often tells her what to do — even when she's just making a person out of modelling clay and deciding which colour to pick.

Luna's teacher notices, explaining to Luna that she's stronger than she realises, and doesn't need to shy away from standing her ground.

Her teacher gives Luna a little bit of self-belief, and it's enough to help Luna assert herself and beat the mighty Estelle on the playing field.

In the series so far:

€ 14.95

from 5 years
old

Brilliant, moving and superbly
illustrated!

A UNIQUELY SENSITIVE AND GENTLY AMUSING TALE, FEATURING A RANGE OF ENDEARING CHARACTERS WHO ALL HAVE BIG QUESTIONS ABOUT LIFE.

Koala is sitting in his favourite tree, letting his thoughts wander... Until Bird and Chameleon appear, asking important questions that set Koala's mind racing: 'What makes time valuable?' 'What does compassion mean?' 'How can people make sure their private life is their own?'

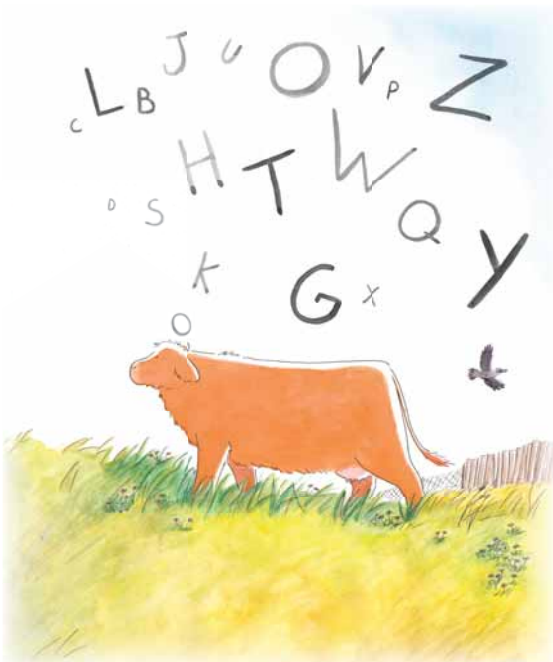

The friends begin a lively and sensitive discussion of a variety of subjects, sharing their views on everything from boys wearing dresses to the death of a loved one, and the calm and quiet that comes from sitting under a tree. Philosophy of Koala brings together philosophical reflections of universal scope that will resonate with all young readers as it addresses their questions and concerns.

An enchanting blend of tender storytelling and charming humour that's sure to leave everyone who reads it — young and old alike — with plenty to think about.

- Explores the topic of learning to read — although reading is a skill that everyone can acquire, different people learn at different speeds.
- An amusing and touching story about the power of friendship.

How can a cow learn how to read?

Some people have pet dogs, other people have pet cats or goldfish... But Jeanne's got a pet cow!

Jeanne adores her pet cow. She's called Mirabelle, and she's Jeanne's only real friend.

Jeanne loves spending time with Mirabelle — she makes daisy chains for her and sings her songs, and when Jeanne starts learning to read, Mirabelle is keen to listen in.

One day, when Jeanne's unwell, Mirabelle decides to go to see her in her bedroom... And this time, Mirabelle wants to read Jeanne a story..

What fun the two friends have when they see each other!

The Barcelos Cockerel

By Zemanal & Pauline Duhamel

The legendary story of an instantly recognisable Portuguese symbol.

One of Louisa's chickens has gone missing. All too quickly, her neighbours claim it has been stolen — a rumour that steadily grows until it spreads as far as the city gates. When a stranger arrives, the local crowds immediately deem him guilty, even though the chicken has been found.

The condemned man claims that the cockerel, which is being cooked in a nearby pot, will start crowing if he is hanged. In a miraculous twist, just as the noose is being tightened around the man's neck, the cock crows, proving his innocence... The man is saved!

The Gobble-Gobble-Gobblers

By Zemanal & Madeleine Brunelet

If you always say no, a demon could gobble you up!

A peasant couple and their children have lost their harvest. The Gobble-Gobble-Gobblers, three demons that prey on people whenever there's bad weather, knock at their door. To protect his family, the father orders his wife and children to prepare a meal. Everybody obeys him, except his youngest son.

The demons are ready to eat the child, but his father comes up with a new ruse that saves his life. The boy realises that you shouldn't always say no.

The Little Boy and the Eagle

By Nathalie Beau & Donatien Mary

The legend of the little boy who rescued an eagle and became a national hero.

Ilir lives in the Albanian mountains, and loves wandering across the hilltops. One day, he saves a young eagle from being bitten by a snake, and takes the eagle with him, believing that his parents will be proud of what he has done. The eaglet's mother begs him to free the baby bird, however. In return, she promises to make Ilir as strong as an eagle. Ilir accepts the offer, and grows up in the shadow of the flying eagle, who watches over him at all times. Ilir's achievements as a hunter and warrior earn him renown across Albania, and after protecting his homeland from an invading army, he becomes the country's leader.

Birthday with friends

By Nathalie Minne

6 November 2019
29 x 22.3 cm
32 pages
€ 14.95

A charming new picture book from Nathalie Minne that celebrates the friendship of a group of woodland creatures.

- A story brimming with delightful details and endearing characters.
- A touching message about the importance of involving others and caring for those around us.
- A landscape format that makes the story more accessible while showcasing Nathalie Minne's superb illustrations.

« Dear Miki,
Thanks a lot for your letter. It's very kind of you to invite me to your birthday party!
You've been living in the woods for a month now, and still feel a bit lonely.
That gave me an idea — I have a surprise for you. See if you can guess what it is... »

A little rabbit who lives in the forest replies to a birthday-party invitation from his new friend Miki. Even though the initial plan is for only the two pals to meet, Rabbit invites his neighbours along too — Squirrel, Fox, Spider, Hedgehog, and many more... He's looking forward to introducing them all to Miki.

What a surprise that will be!

Giant Tears

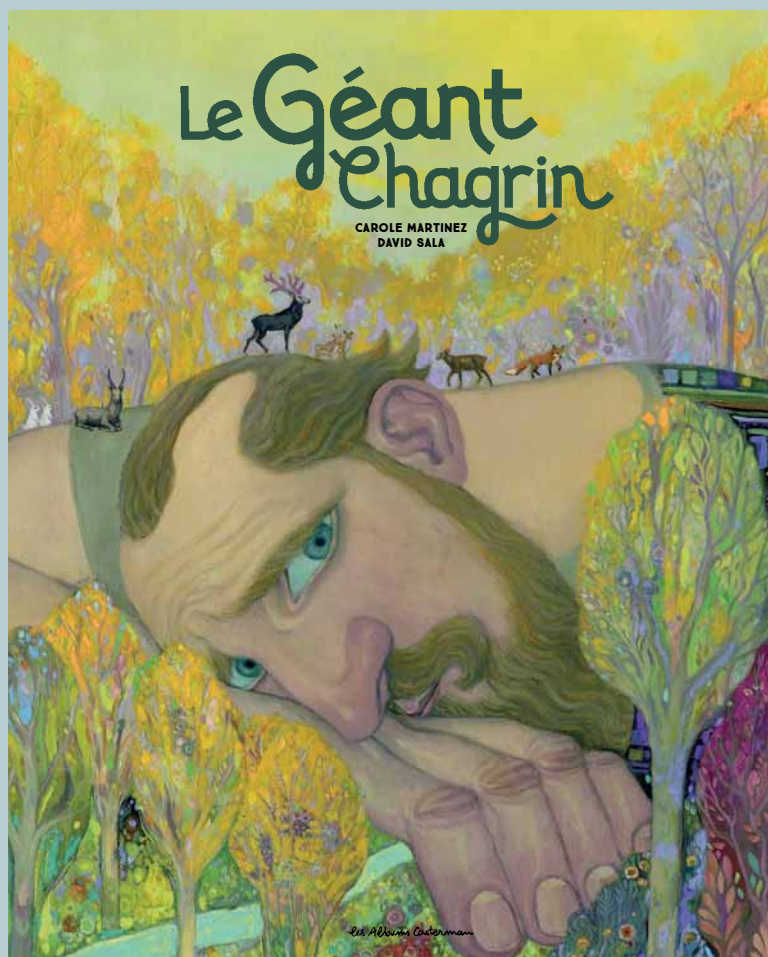

By David Sala & Carole Martinez

16 Octobre 2019

29 x 36 cm

48 pages

€ 18.50

A super-sized picture book that tells the story of a super-sized man...

Luce, Lucas and their parents live on Happiness Lane. Their hometown may be uniformly grey, but everyone who lives there is happy and nothing unusual ever occurs.

Until one day, when something happens — a giant, whose sadness has sent him into a rage, brings destruction to the town, as he unknowingly tramples all over the tiny bastion of strait-laced tranquillity.

Only Luce, Lucas and their parents appreciate the change this provokes. While sadness has made its way into their surroundings, it has also given free rein to the fragrances and colours that have been trapped in their home's old attic...

- A very special fable from the highly skilled and critically acclaimed author Carole Martinez, with David Sala providing stunning artwork. Carole Martinez has won over fifteen literary prizes including "Le Goncourt des lycéens."
- A celebration of individuality, the importance of expressing our feelings and the value of the unexpected.
- A high-quality, extra-large-format book that boasts a wealth of beautifully stylised illustrations.

The Mesopotamian epic poem — mankind's first work of literature

The powerful demi-god Gilgamesh rules over the city of Uruk. His pride rouses the gods to anger, which leads them to create an opponent who can match Gilgamesh's might — Enkidu the giant. The titanic two-some become friends, however, and go on a series of adventures together... Until the day the gods, their anger unabated, bring Enkidu's life to an end. Gilgamesh is devastated by his friend's death, and longs for immortality. He sets out on a great quest that leaves him as mortal as ever, but infinitely wiser...

Gilgamesh is a riotous, powerful and thought-provoking tale, its richness having ensured the narrative's popularity for four millennia. This is your chance to experience some of the key moments in a story that inspired some of ancient civilisation's most memorable myths and legends.

THE HISTORY OF HUMANKIND — AS YOU'VE NEVER HEARD IT BEFORE!

What were prehistoric humans' lives like? Are we really descended from monkeys? What circumstances led to the emergence of 'Homo sapiens'?

Through a series of fun-filled exchanges between a range of characters (a cliché-spouting storyteller, two children with lots of questions and a scientist who knows almost everything), Human Evolution uses a comic-book format to offer readers a chronological view of ancient human history and the history of our closest relatives, from the first monkeys to Neolithic man. It also explores how scientists' work in the field and in laboratories enables them to unpick the details of our past.

THIS EXPLORATION OF THE LIFE OF CLAUDE MONET

— from his childhood in Normandy and his early years as a painter to the relationships he built up with a host of innovative artists (including Bazille, Renoir and Manet) while he was still very young — also serves as an introduction to a turning point in art history. The artistic revolution the period brought with it saw artists becoming independent, exhibiting their work to bolster their reputations before selling it to survive, and heralded a time when painters came out of their workshops and onto the street or into the countryside, as big names clashed at Art galleries and exhibitions, and critics wielded the power to legitimise or destroy new styles.

Vol. 1 - The history of Art part 1

From the prehistorical times to the Renaissance

Vol. 2 - The history of Art part 2

From the Renaissance to Modern Art

FIND OUT ALL ABOUT THE AMAZING ART MADE BY THE MAN WHO PAINTED THE MONA LISA!

Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1519) is one of history's great geniuses — as well as being a talented painter, a skilled designer, a gifted sculptor and an inspired architect, he was also an engineer, a physicist, a botanist, a musician, a town planner and an anatomist...

From Leonardo's native Tuscany to his time at the Clos Lucé chateau, via Florence, Milan, and Venice; from his interactions with some of the most powerful rulers of the age, including Lorenzo de' Medici and King François I, the latest addition to the 'Art in a Graphic Novel Format' series introduces readers to the most famous artist of the Renaissance — a visionary who sought to understand every aspect of the world around him.

Or How to Find the Keys to Self-Love and Self-Confidence inside You...

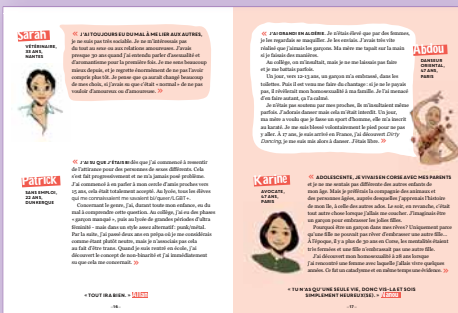

Even as adults, we can find it hard to recognise what we're best at, realise what we're capable of and know how we can develop our skills and abilities so that we ultimately feel good.

Enjoy laughs galore and self-improvement with a comic book that's here to help you...

Through the insights of five characters who are exploring the same concerns — the ever positive Gigi, rap-loving Sarah, skateboarding Tom, bashful Lise and photography-mad Charlie — readers learn how to understand themselves better, recognise their own needs and treat themselves with the kindness they deserve. Each chapter includes a 'Hints and Tips' section, a summary of traps to avoid and a list of experiences to try... As well as an entertaining contribution from Gigi's mouse-chasing and ever-so-slightly-mad cat Oscar!

Thirty Struggles that Have Shaped the Present Day

A study of fifteen women and fifteen men who changed the world by defying authority and challenging convention.

Fighters explores the most important ideological battles in history from the perspective of the people who led them — the men and women whose lifelong devotion to the unrelenting pursuit of a cause has helped to create a fairer and more just world.

Featuring Émile Zola, Simone Weil, Gandhi, Martin Luther King, Jane Goodall, Mother Teresa, Maria Montessori, Malala, Paul Watson and many more, Fighters not only offers a series of biographical portraits of these key figures, but also showcases the causes they stood for and the status of these issues in the present day.

Blending biography and graphic-novel storytelling, Fighters' new narrative approach inspires children to find out more about a range of subjects that are vitally important in fostering an understanding of how our world works.

A book that encourages readers of all ages to take a stand...

Today's children will perform 13 different jobs in their lives compared to their parents and 65% of these jobs still do not exist. Rather crazy if you ask me... In this world of tomorrow creativity will be a very important asset, the one that will allow them to adapt, invent and innavate.

Creativity is a capacity that is unique to the human brain as there is one thing that computers can't really do and that is to have original ideas!

An innovative new format that keeps readers entertained and stimulates their creativity by exploring new ideas and linking them together...

Philippe Brasseur is convinced that there is one thing a robot cannot do — have exciting new ideas! Our strength lies in our creativity, and the good news is that creativity is something we can learn.

My Great Big Ideas Factory features four activity sections, all of which are designed to stimulate new ideas and link them together.

Each section bears its own distinctively eye-popping colour theme, with each page divided in two to ensure that a rich mix of ideas flow in a fun-filled blend of increasingly fantastical mental associations!

Follow the adventures of Pépère, a grumpy but oh-so-lovable cat!

Grumpy is a stray cat, and although he's free to explore rooftops and cellars to his heart's content, he has grown tired... And rather plump!

On the day of his seventh birthday (making him forty-two in cat years), Grumpy makes a big decision — he's going to turn his life around and find somewhere to settle down, a house with a garden and a sofa that he can call his own. A combination of chance and bad weather leads him to the home of Pierre, Marion, Louise and Victor.

Grumpy's first few days as a housemate aren't all that easy, however — for either the humans or their new feline guest...

There are no two ways about it — Grumpy has found himself a home, in this house, with this family.

'My housemates are nice; they do their own thing without stepping on my paws too much.' But living together as a family also means making allowances for one another.

If there's a family outing, for example, or if Louise invites one of her friends over...

When the delicate harmony of family life can shatter at any moment, chaos is always ready to take its place — how exciting!

And who would have thought that Grumpy could be allergic to beard hair?

The further adventures of Héloïse, Abélard and their larger-than-life best friend...

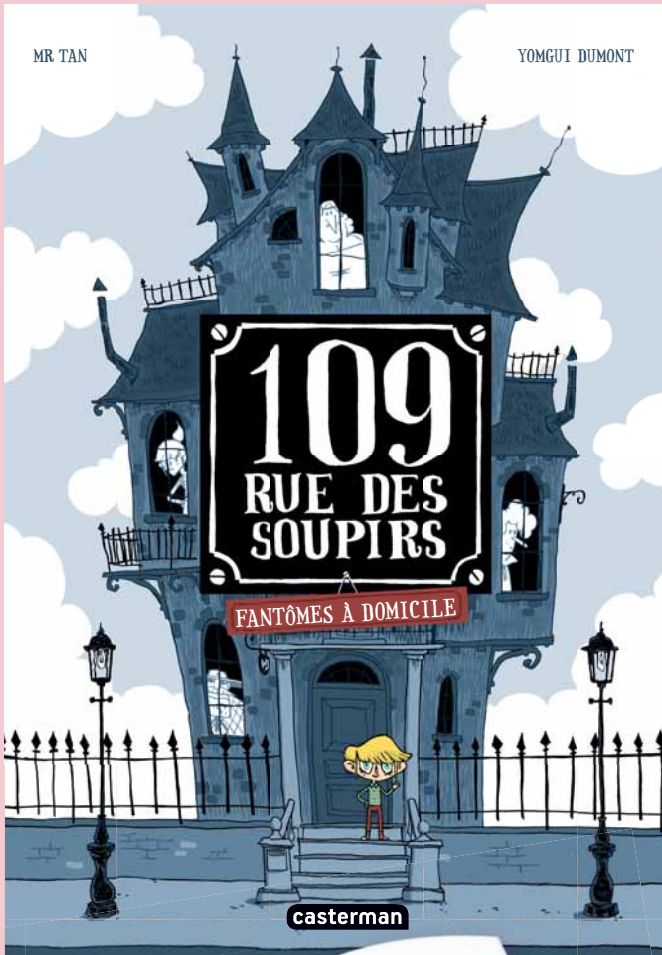

Héloïse and Abélard have become inseparable. Eager as ever to transform their humdrum existence into a magical adventure, they continue to dream up bold and imaginative ways of confronting the boredom that looms over them — from organising stairwell races to holding philosophical discussions and arranging merciless battles. The gentle Kong Kong is often by Héloïse and Abélard's side, and the friends soon discover that he's more sensitive than they thought...

The second volume in the Kong Kong series incorporates all the ingredients that made the first instalment a bestseller — humour, absurdity and beautiful writing, alongside Héloïse and Abélard's sweet and engaging relationship.

- A fresh, engrossing and fantasy-filled storyline and setting.
- Endearing and hilarious characters.
- Expressive dialogue that explores love, friendship and nature.

Vol. 1 - The Gorilla on the Roof

By Mr Tan, the bestselling author of the 'Mortelle Adèle' series and Le Manoir Croquignole.

A rich fantasy world — a boy is abandoned by his parents and now shares a house with a group of friendly ghosts.

A new graphic-novel format for Casterman — softcover with endflaps.

Illustrated by Yomgui Dumont, whose Brigade des cauchemars won the Discovery Award (College Category) at the 2019 Angoulême International Comics Festival.

- Mr Tan, the writer behind the 'Mortelle Adèle' series, which has sold over 1.3 million copies.
- Yomgui Dumont, a rising star in the graphic-novel world.
- A fun-filled adventure with no let-up in pace — children will love it.

Nine-year-old Elliot and his parents have just moved to the town of Belle-en-Joie, and their new home is a run-down old house that's rumoured to be haunted.

The four ghosts who live there happen to be very welcoming, however, and are keen to care for Elliot, whose ever absent parents have all but abandoned him... But everything changes when Elliot's cantankerous new governess, Frida Von Schloss, arrives. Elliot discovers that the surly schoolmistress has made something of a name for herself as a ghost hunter... So Elliot and his new friends set about coming up with a way to get rid of her!

A delightful new series that offers readers twists galore.

Gaspard's first investigation — a fast-paced detective case set among the Parisian rooftops...

Montmartre, old Paris. The orphaned apprentice chimney-sweep Gaspard is taken in by Father Socrate, an elderly antiques dealer.

Young Gaspard spends his free time roaming the rooftops of Paris.

One night, on the roof of an abandoned medieval church, Gaspard comes face to face with a hideous monster — a living gargoyle, complete with fangs...

The gargoyle is keen to gobble Gaspard up, but it isn't long before an unlikely friendship develops between the pair... One that leads to them conducting their first investigation.

Found abandoned on a makeshift boat soon after their birth, twin sisters Carla and Rosa are taken in by Simonetta and Maestro Carlo.

At a ball that coincides with the twins' tenth birthday, Carla disappears.

Rosa is committed to finding her sister — and she won't let anything stand in her way!

“ Between fantasy and reality, Lying to the stars, efficiently explores that difficult mixture of sensations, feelings, outbursts and fears, that take place during the harsh passage from being a cub in a protected environment to becoming the main character of your own world !”

Andersen july/august 2019

Leon is a quirky boy who lives in a world of his own; he has a deep love of animals and a heartfelt desire to make friends and stop being scared of everything. When he bumps into the garish-lipstick-wearing, rather rebelliously dressed and decidedly outspoken Salomé in a school corridor, his life suddenly changes direction. Leon gains confidence, dares to stand up to the taunts of the older boys and braves breaking free from his mother's oppressive attentiveness. The people he is closest to soon start to worry about Salomé's influence on him...

THE PAPILLON FAMILY CHRONICLES

A NEW EXCITING MIDDLE-GRADE SERIES ABOUT A STRANGE FAMILY WITH STRONG POWERS THAT ENABLE THEM TO HELP OR DESTROY HUMANITY. THE BUTTERFLY EFFECT IS THE LINK BETWEEN ALL THE MULTIGENERATIONAL STORIES RECOUNTED BY THE ELDERS.

'Move in the shadows, whether you want to or not' — this is the motto of the Papillon family.

However insignificant the Papillons' actions may seem, everything the family does results in good things happening in the world, from wars coming to an end to revolutionary inventions being created. If the family starts using a new brand of toothpaste, you might just end up winning the lottery... But can good exist without evil? Of course not! For centuries, a secret battle has been waged between the Papillons and their arch rivals, the Avalanches — the family responsible for the most devastating disasters in history.

She may only be thirteen years old, but can Éva Papillon prove herself a worthy successor to her ancestors and their achievements?

Whenever she is confronted by a problem — no matter how small — Suzine falls silent. She shuts herself away, partly so that she no longer has to hear the outside world, but mainly so that nobody discovers her secret...

Suzine is so shy that she never says what she is thinking — when her stepmum tells her off, or her best friends start arguing, or her dad asks her all about a particular boy, she closes in on herself. With her friends turned against her, Tom sending her messages and the Miss Crampon contest encouraging her to open up, the time comes for Suzine to be strong, put an end to her silence and show everyone who she really is.

Following her training with the old witch Haya, Zoe is going to meet a new strange friend, a giant spider called Arachnia. She lives in the city of Arachnians. Gabriel on the other hand has to face new powers that scare him to death. The two siblings have the same goal: finding out who is the chief of the sourcers and where exactly are their parents trapped.

As the forest of Evilferno is growing and threatening to submerge the village of Wallangar, 10 year-old Zoe and her 14 year old brother Gabriel are left on their own by their parents who have gone to seek help. As the story develops both Zoe and Gabriel discover they have magical abilities which they learn to master: Zoe has powerful visions and Gabriel has an intriguing connection with Dragons which he will have to conquer as he will face Evilferno on his own in a terrible battle. In the third volume, our two heros are confronted with a terrible army threatening to wipe out the whole region. As the series evolves, Zoe and Gabriel realise how powerful they are and their vision of the world changes. The most difficult part for them will be to accept their true nature. It is the end of childhood and the beginning of adolescence. If Evilferno is a series about love and friendship it is above all a story about tolerance and the respect of differences.

You might be at college or you might be at home, but if you live in Japan, you don't share your problems. Emi still has a lot she'd like to talk about — the harassment she has to put up with, or her love of manga, for example, but more than anything, she just wants to tell someone about the guilt she's been hiding for the last few months...

Emi has never confided in anyone.

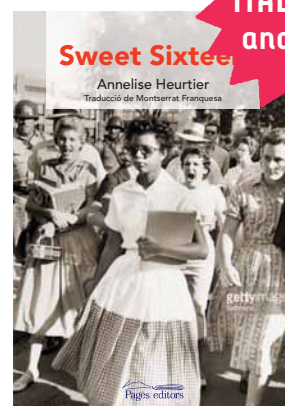

Until a chance encounter leads her to reveal everything.

But in a society where appearances often mean more than reality, can you trust a stranger?

- A fascinating, detailed study of Japanese society.
- A sensitive, courageous heroine.
- A thriller with a hidden theme that becomes apparent only at the book's unforgettable climax.
- Annelise Heurtier — a talented and hugely popular author.

FIRST VOLUME OF A NEW SERIES!

It's not their job to reboot the system. It's ours.

Zéphyr is sixteen years old, and he's starting to worry about the direction the world is heading in. The problem is, Zéphyr's grandmother has chosen him to run the family business, and the business just so happens to be the one-of-a-kind consultancy firm Arsène, which specialises in breaking and entering. Arsène's aim is to ensure that the vast technological empire Anata is able to extend its reach as it works alongside powerful political forces to spread misinformation around the world and manipulate popular opinion. Ctrl Alt Del begins with France's Environment Minister preparing to deliver a momentous speech that exposes the secret link between Anata and the French government — and he realises that on television sets, computer screens and mobile phones everywhere, people are watching. He knows that once he has said what he has to say, things will never be the same again...

THE END OF AN EXCITING TRILOGY!

Bertrand Puard's latest trilogy takes the reader on an ultra-contemporary thrill ride through an international network of maximum-security secret locations.

2019. Three islands somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean, a thousand miles from Antarctica. Freezing polar temperatures, an arid landscape and a chain of volcanoes that threaten to erupt at any moment.

Previously known as Southern Thule, this is the location where G8 leaders have chosen to join forces to create a series of impregnable maximum-security prisons. The world's most dangerous criminals are sent to live out the rest of their lives in these infernal conditions, joined by civilians with compromising secrets, people whom it is useful to keep at a distance...

This is the hell into which sixteen-year-old Yann Rodin, who steadfastly maintains his innocence, is thrown. He has found himself on the wrong end of a highly lucrative business venture masterminded by a former director of the Secret Services – an identity-switching operation. For a few million dollars, Anton Paulovitch, a powerful French-Russian arms trader whom Interpol is hunting, has bought his son Sacha, who looks exactly like Yann, a peaceful continued existence. While Yann is tried and sent to Thule for crimes he has never committed, Sacha adopts his former life, discovering what the simplicity and tranquillity of living on the Eden that is the Île de Porquerolles on France's Côte d'Azur – far removed from the violence and corrupt business practices of his father – really means.

Nothing happens by chance — especially not in this story.

Léna idolises her older brother Martin. This summer, though, Martin doesn't seem like his usual self — he's quit his dream job with merchant bankers and has come back home, feeling rather low. On a whim, Léna and Martin head to the south, in a idyllic country-side location to stay with the mysterious Zoé, in the house that her recently deceased uncle owned. The siblings are looking forward to helping each other get back to the way they used to be, while enjoying a holiday that should prove at least a little bit entertaining...

With her initial excitement waning, however, Léna starts to feel uneasy — why did Zoé want to draw her and Martin into her world? What secrets are lurking in Zoé's uncle's house? And who is the man who has been stalking the forest since Léna and Martin arrived?

An unforgettable read!

- Ten engaging and relatable teenagers — laugh, cry and live alongside them.
- An important and personal historical insight — based on the author's own experiences as a teenager.

Ten teenagers, trapped inside a bus as war erupts around them, are faced with a choice that will change their lives forever.

Israel, December 1987.

A bus taking French college students on a sightseeing trip is attacked by a group of stone-throwing Palestinian teenagers who happen to be the same age as the children on board. The First Intifada has begun.

The bus-bound students are Daniel, Christophe, Rose, Lucille, Jeremy, Sonia, Amir, Benjamin, Anna and Anaïs. Ten teenagers who are a long way from home and their families and are all a little confused. They didn't even know anything about the conflict that they're now in the middle of.

Together, they're going to experience the most extraordinary year of their lives.

- Addresses a key contemporary issue that affects many young people — applying to university.
- A no-holds-barred account of adolescent rebellion that perfectly captures what it means to be a teenager.
- A search for identity, sensitively handled.
- A bold critique of the absurdities of the university admissions system and the requirements and tests that students face.

What if freedom sometimes means choosing an option that nobody's offering?

Louise is eighteen years old and preparing for her end-of-year exams. She's a good student, and she goes to a good school. Everyone's smartphones are abuzz with activity today, as universities reveal which students they've made initial offers to. Louise gets in everywhere she's applied, but that's not the case for all of her classmates. Louise finds other people complaining. She finds Manon, her only friend (could she be more than a friend?) turning on her. She finds her mother planning her future on her behalf.

As dreams of freedom and independence mix with burning desire and deep-seated fear, Louise has an idea — what if she rejects all the offers that have come her way?

Perrault's Fairy Tales

By Béatrice Bottet & Tamia Baudouin

available

€ 14.95

from 7 years
old

- Perrault's fairy tales retold and illustrated with older children in mind.
- Tamia Baudouin's exquisite artwork fuses playful colours and boldly stylised designs.

A new, large-format adaptation of a classic collection of stories, from the same series that gave readers a fresh take on Treasure Island.

Compiler extraordinaire of the bedtime fables and folk legends of his day, Charles Perrault has earned a reputation as the father of the fairy tale.

Nine of his stories are presented here — Bluebeard, Cinderella, Sleeping Beauty, Puss in Boots, Donkeyskin, Hop-o'-My-Thumb, Little Red Riding Hood, The Fairies and The Ridiculous Wishes.

Perrault's original versions do not always match the narratives we have come to expect — in this case, Red Riding Hood is eaten by the wolf, but saved by a hunter, and Sleeping Beauty isn't woken from her slumber by a kiss...

This faithful and respectful adaptation includes an information section that provides further background details.

Benjamin Bachelier's bold and atmospheric illustrations form the perfect complement to this iconic tale of treacherous, lawless buccaneers.

- A large-format layout, giving the artwork pride of place.
- Artists from the world of fiction illustration, bringing a less directly representational, more free-flowing style.
- An adaptation that honours the classic source material while offering mass-market appeal.

A FAITHFUL RETELLING OF A CLASSIC ADVENTURE NOVEL THAT HAS LEFT AN INDELIBLE IMPRESSION ON THE POPULAR IMAGINATION.

Having taken possession of a treasure map after the elderly pirate who owns it dies, young Jim Hawkins recounts his perilous journey to a mysterious island. Along the way, he meets a colourful cast of characters, including the unforgettable Long John Silver, a pirate more than willing to double-cross anybody who stands in his way, and whose cunning and nerve Jim is forced to match if he hopes to leave with his life... An abridged, single-volume adaptation that remains true to the pace and plot of Robert Louis Stevenson's original story. Benjamin Bachelier's bold and atmospheric illustrations form the perfect complement to this iconic tale of treacherous, lawless buccaneers.
